

Who Decides What Happens in Your Community? How Did It Get That Way?

Are you passionate about your community? Pissed about pipelines? Frustrated to find that you have no influence over what happens in your own back yard?

See through the fog! Come to this Community Rights Workshop and liberate yourself from the greatest constraint preventing progress: Corporate usurpation of the rights of communities, people, and nature.

Come learn, through the lens of history, about the rigged structure of law that controls our activism. Discover how we can confront corporate control and state preemption on a powerful, single front:
Our inalienable rights.

The Pennsylvania Community Rights Workshop

Saturday Oct 15, 2016

9:00am - 5:00pm

Pendle Hill ★ 338 Plush Mill Road ★ Wallingford, PA

$55/person includes resource materials

Bring your lunch, or register in advance for lunch for an extra $10

Conducted by Ben Price and Chad Nicholson of the Community Environmental Legal Defense Fund

Sign up on line! Seating is limited.

Don't let the price stop you! Check on-line for news about tuition refunds and scholarships.

<https://pendlehill.org/events/pennsylvania-community-rights-workshop/>

Join the next American Revolution as we turn the tide together!

This workshop is a product of the Daniel Pennock Democracy School, the flagship education program of the Community Environmental Legal Defense Fund (celdf.org) named for a PA boy who died after sewage sludge exposure.

Co-sponsored by the West Chester Community Rights Alliance. Visit us:
www.westchestercommunityrightsalliance.org.